BECOME A CORRELATIONS COMMUNICATION COACH

Discover a rewarding career coaching business leaders with effective public speaking and communication skills.

CORRELATIONS CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

We offer a dynamic and rewarding career that can be part-time or full-time. Clients who complete a minimum of 12 coaching hours are eligible to become a Correlations Communication Coach. Through an intense coaching process, clients have learned how to overcome the public speaking jitters and can teach someone else. It does not take a year to become a Communication Coach; it can be completed in as little as 6 weeks.

Each potential coach must go through a one day “How To Be A Successful Correlations Coach” Workshop to begin coaching. The workshop is only $199 to attend and the cost includes coaching handbooks and materials to get started. This workshop emphasizes the business aspect of Correlations and places a special interest on the value of persuasive communication. Everyone who completes the coaching workshop will receive a training certificate from Correlations, which makes them eligible to begin coaching immediately.

A Correlations Coach can expect to train at seminars, workshops, and conduct private one-on-one coaching sessions. After receiving their certificate, the new coach will immediately be responsible for teaching Correlations “Fearless Public Speaking Workshop(s).”

The coach can expect to earn a base of $200-$400 for each private workshop and seminar he or she teaches. Coaches generally teach up to 4-5 workshops per week depending on their personal schedule. In addition, earn lucrative bonuses by building your own clientele through Correlations. First year coaches can expect a rewarding public speaking career that most only dream of attaining.

CORRELATIONS COACHING POINTS

COACH REWARDS

As a special incentive for being a part of the fastest growing public speaking organization, Correlations Coaches will receive 25 points for every coaching session and workshop they teach. For every 500 points, the coach will receive an exclusive lunch with the founder, Helena Paschal and a $100 American Express Gift Card. Just an added perk of working with Correlations!
